PUBLISHER'S REMARKS.

In presenting this Almanac to the public, the design is to furnish a correct and accurate calendar of the passing year, for daily recurrence, and at the same time present much valuable information, such as should be in the possession of every family. Yet, it will be more particularly valuable to the multitude of individuals who depend on WAKEFIELD'S FAMILY MEDICINES in the treatment of disease. Although there are some attacks of disease that require the prompt attention of the most skilful physician, in every little family aliment; every head of a family should, as far as possible, become master of some system of treating his own family, whereby he will often save much suffering, by relieving the patient in the attack before a physician could have been procured; and otherwise, if neglected, a seated lingering disease might have been the consequence.

The remedies here prescribed were perfected by DR. WAKEFIELD, after twelve years extensive practice in the western states, and were successfully used by him in thousands of instances, and their compound thus perfected before they were prescribed for public use. Hence they are so admiraby adapted to the cure of diseases that prevail here.

These medicines have not been advertised and puffed into use as it is often termed; but their own curative effects alone have gained for them a high reputation, and an extensive use over a great portion of the states of Illinois and Iowa. Letters are almost daily received from various parts of the country, certifying to the happy reception of these medicines by the people, and to the many wonderful cures they are effecting.

As every proprietor of patent medicines furnishes the people with a list of certificates that is too tedious for any person to read, your patience will here be taxed with but a few, and these from persons of established reputation, who have used the medicine and know its character for a long time; and they are given only for the satisfaction of those who are strangers to the effects of these medicines.

The following is a list of Wakefield's Family Medicines.

WAKEFIELD'S FEVER SPECIFIC,
WAKEFIELD'S COUGH SYRUP,
WAKEFIELD'S WORM MEDICINE,
WAKEFIELD'S EGYPTIAN LINIMENT,
WAKEFIELD'S BLACKBERRY BALSAM,
WAKEFIELDS STRENGTHENING BITTERS,
WAKEFIELD'S VEGETABLE CATHARTIC PILLS,
WAKEFIELD'S STRENGTHENING AND PAIN EXTRACTING PLASTERS, &c.

These several preparations are deemed sufficient in family use, for all ordinary cases of disease; and persons using them with judgment, according to directions, will find immediate relief in more than nine tenths of the attacks of disease in their families. The wonderful success 'and uniform health of those who depend on these medicines, verify the truth of the above assertions; for not only families, but whole neighborhoods have with their aid succeeded for a year at a time without calling a physician among them.

Each article is accompanied with its necessary directions, and none of the articles will injure from the effects of heat or frost.

☞ All orders for these medicines should be addressed to

From the palaces of heaven hath Pride cast down his millions.
A mote in the gunner's eye is as bad as a spike in the gun.

cates. It is a febrifuge, and an anti-paroxysmal or anti-periodic.

Though Bragg may continue to brag on his Tonic Pills; Smith may boast of his Tonic Syrup; and Osgood of his Category; yet none of them can, from the true effects of their medicine, show such signal and unparallelled speedy triumphs over the most violent grades of fever, as this medicine has almost daily produced. . By its potent effects, the most violent raging fevers have been subdued in the short space of a few hours, and the extreme sufferings of anxiety and distress of the patient thus speedily relieved, and succeeded by a happy state of repose.

This medicine was used with great success, and thoroughly tested in practice many years before it was introduced to the public, and its uniform success, when administered by other hands, warrants the proprietor in the above bold assertion. A stranger to its effects may say these remarks are highly chimerical; but those who use it do continue to say that the half had not been told, and wonder that more flattering recommends were not published.

WAKEFIELD'S FEVER SPECIFIC.

This is the GIANT MEDICINE for Fevers, Chill or Agues, and all diseases of miasmatic origin. By its happy effect in neutralizing and rendering inert the miasmatic and initiating cause of fevers, the patient is relieved as soon as the irritated organs can recover wonted strength. It stands unequalled as a remedy for the cure of Bilious, Congestive, Remittant and Intermittant Fevers, Chills, Agues, &c. It is used also to great advantage in Ticdoloreaux, Nervous pains, Neuralgic diseases, Measles, &c.

One great advantage this medicine possesses over all others, is, it can be taken when the fever is on, and in most cases the fever will subside as soon as the system is under the influence of it; thus hastily relieving the anxiety and distress of the suffering patient.

As conclusive evidence of the above, please read the following letter from a friend in Iowa.

Walnut Point, Iowa, Oct. 20, 1852.

DR. C. WAKEFIELD:

"Dear Sir,—In passing through your state about four weeks ago, moving from Indiana, four of my family took violent fever about the same time, so that we were unable to travel. This happened in the neighborhood of Leroy, in your county. I was recommended to procure a bottle of your Fever Specific, which I did, and commenced giving to them all at once, and gave them the contents of one bottle that afternoon; and happy were we at bed-time to find that all were free from fever. We resumed our journey the next day, suffering much hardship and fatigue, and none of us have taken any relapse.

"This is the medicine for us, as there is considerable fever and chills here at present. I wish you would establish an agency near here, or at least inform me where I can best obtain it.

Yours, very respectfully,

LABAN CRANDALL."

The following certificate is from the pen of Mr. Hillis, one of the celebrated singers of the Newhall Family, who came to this place very much reduced, after having the ague and fever for several months.

"I hereby certify that I have used Dr. Wakefield's celebrated Fever Specific, and can most cordially recommend it to the public. The circumstances with me were as follows: after a run of the fever the ague set in; I was very much reduced in health; I made application to different physicians, and used nearly all the patent medicines that were recommended without effect. I made application to Dr. Wakefield for his FEVER SPECIFIC; the result was I was permanently cured in less than one week. I advise all to try it.

W. D. HILLIS."

Bloomington, Ill. May 1, 1853.

Have you an attack of Fever, or Ague and Fever, first take a dose of Carthartic Pills, or some good active purge, and as soon as they take effect, take according to directions a bottle of WAKEFIELD'S FEVER SPECIFIC, and you will experience immediate relief.

Full directions accompany each bottle for treating all the various symptoms of fever.

"This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of WAKEFIELD'S FAMILY MEDICINES for the last seven years, during which, from its own true merits, it has gained a high reputation, and an extensive use; and has given universal satisfaction wherever it has been used in my neighborhood, by curing the diseases for which it is recommended.

"I have known it to cure Poll Evil, Fistula, Sprains, Fevers, and all common diseases in a multitude of cases.

A. P. CRAIG."

CLEANSING THE STOMACH.

As the stomach is the great laboratory for the manufacturing of food into the proper condition to enter into the support of animal life, it is a self-evident fact, that if that organ becomes deranged, foul or bilious, the whole system must suffer prostration, and sympathetic disease in consequence.

If you find your stomach has become deranged, (as it generally is previous to the attack of other diseases,) do not fail to take a dose of WAKEFIELD'S VEGETABLE CATHARTIC PILLS, which are active and thorough in their effect, and will hastily relieve the system of the excess of bile and other vitiated accumulations, that would otherwise produce serious disease. Two pills on going to bed is generally sufficient for a dose, or one at night and one in the morning. The dose may be repeated or not, after one or two days, according to the judgment of the patient.

These pills are entirely vegetable in their composition, act on the system without producing pain, and but very little prostration, unless too large a dose is taken.

WAKEFIELD'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

These pills have gained a lasting reputation as a valuable Family Medicine, in all cases where a cathartic is required. They are vegetable in their composition, certain and active in their effect, and perform their office without giving pain. They are a composition of the highly concentrated properties of vegetables, so that from one to two pills are a dose.

They act so thorough in relieving the system of excessive

BILIOUS accumulations, that they succeed in a multitude of cases in breaking up the first attack of fever.

There are few diseases but what require the aid of cathartics; and by varying the size of the dose they can be used to suit all conditions.

For Costiveness, Jaundice, Head-ache, Eruptions of the skin, Giddiness, and Enlargement of the Spleen, take one pill every night, or just enough to move the bowels once or twice a day, and follow it up for some time.

For Apoplexy Fits, or mental derangement, give active doses of the pills, and follow it up for some time. Different persons require different sized doses, and a person will soon learn the sized dose that suits him best.

Wakefield's Cough Syrup—The great American Remedy, For Coughs, Pthisic, Croup, Winter, Typhoid or Lung Fever, Spitting of Blood, Pain or Soreness of the breast or side, Measles, Whooping Cough, first stage of Consumption, &c.

This is one of the most healing and soothing Expectorants before the public. It is also, alterative in its effect, and purifying to the blood. Like Sarsaparilla, it searches the system, and neutralizes the vitiated humors that poison the animal fluids. It is admirably adapted to all Pulmonary diseases, and particularly to Winter and Lung Fevers. It relaxes the tightness of the inflamed lungs, reduces the inflammation and throws the vitiated humors to the surface. This Syrup only requires to be well tried, to make it extensively used. No one who has become acquainted with its soothing and healiug virtues, will be without a bottle in his house to use in case of an attack.

TO CURE COLDS.

Take WAKEFIELD'S COUGH SYRUP in tea-spoonful doses, and bathe the feet for about twenty minutes in warm lye water, (that is water with a little ashes or sal soda dissolved in it to make it a little slippery,) then cover up warm in bed.

If the attack is very severe, with chilliness and flushes of fever, which are symptoms of Typhoid attack, use instead of the foot bath, a thorough warm bath, which may be conveniently applied in the following manner:—Place the patient

A man too careful of danger liveth in continual torment.
Fear will make wretched, though evil follow not behind.

in a common tub near the fire, divested of clothing, and pour with a small dipper or sponge, over every part of the body warm lye water till the system is well heated up, then sponge lightly with cold water to close the surface of the pores, and follow hastily with dry towels; then, after taking large doses of Cough Syrup, wrap up in bed for a good sweat. Next day take small doses of Cough Syrup occasionally. This course persevered in will prevent other more serious diseases.

LONG SEATED COUGHS.

Take Cough Syrup in small and oft repeated doses; bathe the feet and body occasionally on retiring at night; and apply the Strengthening and Pain Extracting Plaster on the back, between the shoulders.

TYPHOID FEVER, WINTER FEVER, LUNG FEVER, &C.

This fever may generally be distinguished from other fevers in the first stage, by the protracted chilly sensations, with fever at the same time, a flickering pulse, and great prostration of the nerves. It is generally caused by cold, contracted from damp atmosphere when the pores were much relaxed, or the system much fatigued. It is highly inflammatory in its tendency, and should be treated with much care, all local irritations timely attended to.

TREATMENT.

In the first stage of this disease, the patient should have one thorough Cathartic, after which he should take Cough Syrup in frequently repeated doses, till the system is thoroughly relaxed, and nausea or free expectoration is produced. This will lessen the arterial excitement, and assist in promoting perspiration. The patient should then be sponged under the bedclothes, with weak lye water, till the pores are thoroughly cleansed. Cloths wrung out with cold water should be applied over the seat of pain, soreness or heat, and changed frequently till relief is given. If the system is too weak to re-act firmly, use water that is a little warm.

Keep down the excitement of fever, by the frequent bathing and free use of the Cough Syrup, and keep the bowels open by the use of small doses of Castor Oil. This course properly pursued, the fever will generally subside in four or five days, and the inflamatory tendency disappear, when the Fever Specific should be given in tea-spoonful doses, and the system gently braced up without exciting inflamation.

FOR CROUP.

Bathe the feet in warm lye water; give the patient Cough Syrup, in tea-spoonful doses till nausea and relaxation is produced; and bathe the throat and breast with Egyptian Liniment. This course will soon relieve all ordinary cases.

WHOOPING COUGH.

Soon as you discover you have taken this disease, apply the Strengthening and Pain Extracting Plaster on the back, between the shoulders, and take repeated doses of the Cough Syrup. When the patient is much choked up with phlegm, give large or nauseating doses that will cut it up and cause it to raise.

This course will prevent nearly all whooping, and cause the disease to speedily wear off.

MEASLES.

Bathe the feet in warm lye water, and sponge the body thoroughly, under the bed-clothes, with the same, two or three times a day; and take Cough Syrup in small and frequent doses; and occasionally a dose of Specific, till the eruptions appear, or the measles come out as it is called. Keep the patient warm and quiet a few days, as they will take cold on slight exposure.

Wakefield's Egyptian Liniment.

This is, beyond all doubt, the most complete preparation for the cure of all diseases that require an external application, that has been brought before the public.

It embraces within its valuable compouud, properties that are extremely penetrating, softening, warming, stimulating, cleansing and healing; all of which act in harmonious concert in relieving disease. Thus, while one property penetrates and Pride shall kick at obligation, and push the giver from him.

I had a seeming friend; — I gave him gifts, and he was gone.

softens the contracted muscle, the callous formation, the bruised flesh, or the inflamed sore, another property warms and stimulates the healthy parts and particles to vigorous action in casting off the morbid and diseased particles which had become a source of irritation and pain; while another property quiets the excitement, heals the lacerated particles of animated substance, or sound flesh, and brings about a healing process wherever it penetrates. It is, by its action under these philosophical principles, that it is capable of curing so many different and apparently dissimilar diseases; and in fact it can be successfully applied in all diseases that do not originate in the internal organs.

TO CURE POLL EVIL,

BIG-HEAD, FISTULA, RINGBONE, SPAVIN, SWEENEY, AND ALL HARD SWELLINGS.

First bathe the part well with warm lye water, or strong soap suds, which will open the pores of the skin, and when it is dry apply the Egyptian Liniment thoroughly to the part. If the location will admit, a cloth saturated with the Liniment should be bound on; thus apply the liniment twice a day, and cleanse the part with strong suds, once in a day or two, till a cure is effected.

FOR BURNS,

GALLS, CHAFES, AND ALL RAW FLESH,

Apply the Egyptian Liniment with a feather or soft rag, without shaking the bottle.

On Burns or Frosted parts, a piece of raw cotton, or a soft rag, should be saturated with the Liniment, and kept applied so as to entirely exclude the air, and thus prevent a scar.

FOR SORE EYES.

Rub the Liniment freely over the closed eye lids: after a few moments wipe off what has not penetrated, taking care not to get it in the eyes as it will make them smart. A few such rubbings has generally cured all ordinary cases of sore eyes.

SNAKE BITE.

To cure the bite of Rattle-snakes, keep several thicknesses of cloth well saturated with the Egyptian Liniment, bound on the wound for several days, and not neglect to moisten the cloth often with the Liniment, and it will seldom fail of a cure on man or beast.

Sometimes No. 6, or spirits taken freely, internally, will greatly prevent the poison from striking in and effecting the whole system.

The following letter is from an agent who sells large quantities of this medicine.

Bridgewater, Monroe Co., Ill., May 3, 1853.

DR. C. WAKEFIELD:

"Sir,—I am out of nearly all kinds of your medicine, and hope you will not delay sending me a fresh supply, and send particularly a large stock of the Egyptian Liniment, as there is at present great demand for it. My customers say it cures everything it is recommended for. They tell me that it cures the bite of rattle-snakes when the swelling has become enormous,—that it cures Poll Evil, Sweeney, and all diseases about horses; and want that I should not be out of it.

Yours, respectfully, ICABUD STROUD."

CANCER.

To cure a Cancer, apply a piece of raw cotton, wet with the Egyptian Liniment, three or four times a day, or oftener in bad cases, for some time, or till a cure is effected. The hard protuberance in the centre will gradually shrink away, leaving a cavity, till nothing but sound flesh is left, when it will heal up permanently. The patient should use freely of a syrup made from a strong decoction of Sarsaparilla and Burdock Root, Wild Cherry and Sassafras Bark and Guiac chips; strain the decoction, sweeten, add a little spirits to prevent fermentation, and use three times a day for a long time. This will be found a good preparation in all scrofulous diseases.

Read the following letter from a worthy citizen and farmer in Knox County, Ill., concerning a most wonderful cure of a Cancer, in his neighborhood.

Abingdon, Knox Co., Ill.

cure performed by your Egyptian Liniment, in the case of Elizabeth Philips. She had a cancer on her forehead, it had been a running sore for eighteen months; it is now well, and her health greatly improved. She applied it by wetting a cloth with the liniment and binding it on to the cancer. She is a living witness of the merits of your valuable medicine.

"Any one can be satisfied on this subject, by addressing a letter of enquiry to Elizabeth Philips, Abingdon, Knox Co., Ill.

"You may make any use of this that you please, for it certainly should be published to the world.

Given under my hand, this May 6, 1853.

JOHN CRAWFORD."

FOR RHEUMATISM,

Pains, Cramps, Bruises, Numbness of the flesh, Cold Skin and extremeties, Stiff Joints, Back-ache, Head-ache, Spleen, Liver Complaint, Contracted Leaders, Swellings, Erysipelas, &c., pour some of the EGYPTIAN LINIMENT on the affected part, and rub it in thoroughly with the hand, till it has all penetrated; then apply more, and continue to rub for fifteen minutes, or more, always rubbing downward, and raise the hand in passing upward. Repeat this application from one to three times a day, according to the violence of the symptoms. In all bad cases, do not fail to persevere in this treatment vigorously; and once a day bathe the affected part with warm suds or lye water, and rub it dry before applying the Liniment.

In Chronic Rheumatism it is often necessary to apply the Strengthening and Pain Extracting Plaster across the weakest part of the back, and take freely of a strong tincture made of Gum Guaiacum, Prickly Ash Bark, and Burdoch Seed or Root, in addition to the above course.

TO CURE A LAME BACK.

Apply a large Strengthening and Pain Extracting Plaster across that portion of the back that is most affected, when it has stimulated the surface so as to be very disagreeable, take it off and rub the part twice a day, with Egyptian Liniment, for three days; then again apply the plaster. Continue thus and a cure will soon be effected.

AGUE CAKE;

OR ENLARGEMENT OF THE SPLEEN.

This disease often occurs after protracted Ague, or Chills and Fever, and is known by an enlargement and soreness in the left side, below the chest, and general weakness with frequent relapses of chills.

TREATMENT.

First rub the part thoroughly with the Egyptian Liniment, then apply a large plaster, and proceed as directed for Lame Back. Take a bottle of Fever Specific in the start, and stop the chills; then follow with the Strenghtening Bitters to cleanse and brace up the system.

WAKEFIELD'S WORM MEDICINE.

There is no disease to which children are subject so fatal to them as WORMS. They are not only a cause of disease, but, by irritating the stomach and bowels, they aggravate all other diseases. They sometimes wind and twist themselves into large knots, obstructing the bowels and often the throat, causing convulsions, and not unfrequently death. This VERMIFUGE is safe and certain in its action, effectually destroying Worms in the stomach and bowels, and at the same time acting as a mild cathartic. After taking a few doses it generally brings away large quantities of them; sometimes, however, it cuts up and destroys them so completely as to leave scarcely a vestage of them in the stools. This medicine not only destroys worms, but it cleanses the system, and dissolves and carries off the tough phlegm so prevalent in the stomach and bowels of sickly children. It is harmless in its effects, and the health of the patient is always very much improved by its use, even if no worms are discharged.

FOR WORMS AND WORM FEVER,

Give WAKEFIELD'S WORM MEDICINE according to the directions that accompanies each bottle, and you will be rewarded with happy results.

When a child has Worm Fever, the size of the dose should be much increased.

Read what says a citizen of our country, Mr. Harris, who considers it a Cure-all in his family.

"I here publicly certify that I have used WAKEFIELD'S WORM MEDICINE freely in my family, for the last few years; and it has not only had its specific effect in relieving my children from the effect of Worms, but it invariably relieves them of Fever also. I have in many instances given it in Bilious Fever, when I did not discover or suspect any effects from Worms, and with never failing success.

It takes me four or five days to cure the Fever in this way; but I believe it thoroughly cleanses the stomach, and leaves them in no danger of relapse. Thus I prize it above all other medicines for family use.

GEORGE HARRIS."

Money-Creek, May 7, 1853.

Wakefield's Blackberry Balsam.

This is a mild, pleasant, healing and very efficient remedy for SUMMER COMPLAINT, DISENTERY, DIARRHŒA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Griping Pains, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, irritability and crying of small children, and all Bowel Affections.

This medicine neutralizes the acids that accumulate in and irritate the stomach and bowels,—quiets, controls and heals the inflamed or much excited and irritated mucus membranes. Sometimes it should be given in small doses, and sometimes in very large, as directions will show.

This is a valuable medicine, and should be kept in every family, especially in seasons of prevailing Cholera, as that fearful disease is at first generally but a common Diarrhœa.

TO CURE DIARRHŒA,

Summer Complaints, and all mild and protracted diseases of this nature, give the Blackberry Balsam in doses of two teaspoonfuls every half hour to adults; and children in proportion, till it changes the color of the stools more yellow, or stops the action; after which it should be taken less frequent, and the next day repeat the same process till the bowels are fully regulated.

If the attack of Diarrhœa is severe, or accompanied with griping pains, it is often better to commence with a large dose of the Balsam, say two table-spoonfuls with an equal amount of brandy, if convenient, and repeat it in half an hour, till relief is obtained; then continue with the small doses.

If the stomach is inclined to be sick, or in much pain, apply a mustard plaster externally, and let it draw well. If the stomach appears to be loaded and foul, it is often best to give an emetic, or mild cathartic, before giving the Balsam.

If the irritation and relaxation in the lower region of the bowels become extreme, and the stomach appears to be inactive and retain the medicine too long, till it spends its power, as in Flux, in all such cases do not fail to give an injection of a strong decoction of Oak-bark; after that has been retained about half an hour, if the bowels are very sore or tender to pressure, give an injection of the Mucilage of Slippery Elm Bark, and apply a cloth wrung out of cold water to the bowels to allay all inflammation. Keep the feet warm and the head cool. Give small doses of the Balsam, and keep the bowels sufficiently checked in this manner.

Let the diet be thickened milk, or other light and mild food.

Thus treating the various symptoms without delay, you will seldom fail of success.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

What is generally termed Liver Complaint, is a sluggish action of the liver in secreting bile and transmitting the same properly. The symptoms are slight pains and a sensation of heaviness in the breast, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and Costiveness, sometimes Diarrhœa.

TREATMENT.

Take regularly of WAKEFIELD'S STRENGTHENING BITTERS three times a day, and one Cathartic pill every night, or every other night, sufficient to ensure a mild daily action of the stomach and bowels. Continue this course for some time. See to getting the system in a state of free perspiration, which in that disease is sometimes hard to accomplish. To effect this, take a good warm bath on going to bed for two or three nights, as recommended for bad colds, and afterwards bathe every morning with cold water and rub hastily with course towels till you get full re-action. Take moderate out door exercise, and eat light, course food, and scanty meals. The breast may be rubbed occasionally with the Egyptian Liniment to great advantage.

STRENGTHENING BITTERS.

This is a highly concentrated vegetable strengthening medicine, well calculated to restore the appetite, tone and vigor of the system, after its having been reduced by fevers, ague, or other diseases; and is much used as a preventive in times of prevailing fevers.

STRENGTHENING AND PAIN EXTRACTING PLASTERS.

This is an efficient and powerful remedy for all lame backs, and all seated pains whether in the side, breast, hip or any other part of the body. It is also effectual in curing Ague Cake, or enlargement of the Spleen.

TO CURE CORNS.

Pare the corns or rub them with sand-paper till the skin feels soft, then wrap them with a very thin cotton or linen rag, and wet it with the Egyptian Liniment. Continue to wear the rag, and wet it as at first, once a day, for two or three weeks.

CURE FOR WARTS.

Drop a small drop of Acetic Acid on the main seed warts twice a day, for a few days, and in a few weeks the warts will all disappear.

TO CURE A HORSE OF BOTTS.

First drench the horse with a pint of milk highly sweetened, if relief is not given in twenty or thirty minutes, repeat the dose. This will entice the botts gnawing the stomach to partake of more favorite food, and will seldom fail of producing the effect. After the horse appears to be fully relieved, it is best to give a dose of Aloes or Salts to carry them off that they may never disturb him again.

A genius named Flaherty, of Washington city, has the following posted in his window: "Eggs newly laid here on the shortest notice."

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

The art of preserving health is, perhaps, of as vital importance as that of curing disease.

Health is harmony in the spiritual, moral, and physical organization. Disease is discord, or an effect of the violation of the laws that develope and produce harmony.

All excesses are liable to produce discord in the electric and magnetic forces in our organization, or throw them out of their natural balance, and thus develop pain and disease of some kind, in proportion to the violation. How necessary, then, that we should be temperate in all things—in eating, in drinking, and in the amount of labor we perform,—in not overtasking any of the organs of our physical bodies. Thus we should avoid taking too much food into the stomach at once, or even the proper amouut too hastily, without proper mastication,—too much sweet,—too much sour,—too much cold water at particular times,—or drink that is too hot or too stimulating. We should not excessively fatigue any of our limbs, nor should we deprive ourselves of the necessary action to render every part of our system vigorous. All these violations, to a greater or less extent, produce discord and disease in our organism. How necessary, then, that we study the law that govern our organism, and with judgment govern and control our appetites and passions that lead to excess.

Perhaps there is no greater cause of violent disease in this country, than long and imprudent exposure to a damp, chilly air, when the system is relaxed and the pores open. For at such times, if a person allowed himself to be long out with wet feet, or to become much chilled, cold is likely to seat on the nerves, and develop inflamatory and Typhoid fevers. A little care at such times will generally prevent those serious consequences.

Two loafers met upon the wharf yesterday and passed the "compliments of the season." "Jim," said one, "have you seen Hall, he is looking for you?"

"Hall, what Hall?" was Jim's answer.

"Why, Alco-hall, you fool."

"Pshay," responded Jim, "that's a poor one, and you would not have me if I hadn't been hurt last night when John tripped me up."

"John who?" said Jim.

"Demi-john, you numskull."
